

Friday 3rd June 2011

9.00 - 3.00

St Lukes Community Centre
130 Remuera Rd, Newmarket

Orff NZ Aotearoa brings you

Music Education Professional Development Day
For all teachers, generalists and arts specialists

9.00 - 10.30: Caroline Zeeman - Ukulele for all. African songs for ukulele and percussion.

African style ukulele music brought to you by ukulele teacher Caroline Zeeman. Caro will feature triple-strumming techniques, using beginner and intermediate chords. You will leave with three African songs with simple marimba/percussion arrangements and terrific ukulele strums to match. All levels of ukulele players are welcome – some ukuleles will be available if you can't bring your own.

Caroline Zeeman is a music educator and ukulele maestro who teaches guitar and ukulele to adults and children in East Auckland. Caro is an active and enthusiastic member of ONZA who loves the practical approach that Orff offers, giving all participants the opportunity to make music, share music, gain confidence and grow in the love of music.

With her colleague Clare McCormack, she has been writing and producing ukulele teaching resources. 'Colours of Aotearoa' and 'Okeley Dokeley Ukulele' are the two to date.

10.30 MORNING TEA - (Provided) You will then be divided into 2 groups and Sessions 2 & 3 will be a rotation.

Session 2: 11.00 – 12.30 – Workshop with Fraser or Julian

THEN Lunch 12.30 – 1.15

Session 3: 1.15 – 2.45 – Workshop with Fraser or Julian

Fraser Bruce - Zimbabwean marimba for the classroom

This workshop will add a new layer to your marimba/xylophone classroom ensembles. Fraser will share some of the Zimbabwean marimba playing techniques he uses. He will help us explore skills and techniques using some simple Zimbabwean songs.

Fraser will create an opportunity to improvise and gather these improvisations into an ensemble piece to play together.

Participants will have the joy of playing on one of The Rhythm Centre's Zimbabwean marimbas – known for their brightness and resonance.

Fraser Bruce, founder of The Rhythm Centre, is well known not only for his drumming workshops for adults and children but also for his beautifully resonant marimbas and Zimbabwean rhythms.

Participating in an ensemble led by Fraser will inspire you for the rest of the year.

Julian Raphael - Songs of southern Africa

Following his recent return from a trip to Africa Julian Raphael, Community Music Junction - Wellington, will bring us new and authentic African songs for children – and once again lead us in ways into successful, joyful singing in the classroom.

Julian is an influential community music leader from Wellington who brings with him a lifetime of experience in music education. He is actively involved in community singing throughout New Zealand, director of Community Music Junction, and music co-ordinator at the Wellington Rudolph Steiner School.
